

Randy Sabedra

Principal

With over twenty years of interior and exterior architectural lighting design experience, Randy Sabedra currently heads the firm of RS Lighting Design. He is the recipient of numerous lighting honors including the IESNYC Lumen Award, the IALD Lighting Award, the Cooper Source Professional Award, and recently an Outstanding Achievement from Architectural Lighting's Light and Architecture Design Award.

Randy is not only recognized for his award winning projects, but is also known in the design community as an educator of light. He is currently a lighting instructor in the Associate Interior Design and Architecture Programs at Parsons School of Design, a part-time instructor in the Interior Design department at the School of Visual Arts in NYC, and formerly taught in the Interior Design Departments at the Art Institute and Fashion Institute of Technology of New York.

In 2005 Randy Sabedra was elected president of the Illuminating Engineering Society New York City Section for a two-year term. He has held various positions at the IESNYC since 2002, including serving as the organization's vice president, co-chair of the IESNY Education Committee, advisor on the Student Lighting Design Competition, and currently holds the chair for the NYC Public Outreach Committee. In 2011 Randy was honored by the IESNYC with a Brilliance Award for his outstanding service to the IESNYC and the NYC lighting community.

Randy studied Architecture at California Polytechnic State University in San Luis Obispo, CA and subsurface architecture at the Ecole des Beaux-Arts in Fontainebleau, France. He was employed as an Associate at the lighting design firm of H. M. Brandston & Partners and Senior Associate at the firm of Kugler Tillotson Associates.

Randy Sabedra is a member of the IES and DLFNY, and professional member is the IALD.
